DOEK ON FLEEK

On 20 and 21 August 2019, the Professional Board for Social Work held its 43rd meeting in Pretoria. A range of topics were discussed and significant milestones were reached. A statement on the outcomes of this meeting will be issued shortly.

On 23 August 2019, the Professional Conduct Manager, Mr Hitler Sekhitla, and the Professional Conduct Officer, Ms Annah Madonsela, presented the Code of Ethics for newly employed social workers of the Gauteng Department of Social Development, as part of their induction and orientation programme. A total of 103 social workers from the Johannesburg Metro, Sedibeng and West Rand Regions attended respectively. Council commends the Gauteng Department of Social Development for investing time and resources to capacitate these cadres as they begin their new journey as practitioners. We congratulate the participants in their employment and wish them well in their endeavours.

On 23 August 2019, staff at Council's office celebrated Women's Month under the theme "Doek on Fleek" as a symbol of courage and that there were those who went before us who fought for equal rights, the vote, equal pay and the right to self-determination. Nedbank partnered with Council on this event and presented on financial wellness. A representative from the Cancer Association of South Africa also presented on different cancers affecting women and the importance of regular self-examination or clinical examination in early detection for enabling effective treatment and a better chance of recovering from cancer.
